Volunteer at Wesley Industries: Building social connections, empowering confidence

Make a meaningful impact with your team!

Wesley Industries provides supported employment opportunities for individuals of all ages living with disabilities, offering meaningful work in mailing and packaging services. Conveniently located just a short walk from the Rocklea train station in Brisbane, we invite your team to join us for an enriching volunteering experience that goes beyond just work—it's about making a real difference.

Your volunteering experience

Spend a rewarding few hours at Wesley Industries, where your team will work alongside our dedicated employees living with disabilities. Together, you'll assist with packing and assembly tasks for various businesses, contributing to the success of our operations while creating lasting connections.

Each volunteer will be paired with an employee, providing support and encouragement to help them build communication skills, boost confidence, and feel valued as part of the wider community.

Your participation has a profound social impact—by engaging with our employees, you're helping them develop a sense of belonging, improve their social skills, and gain confidence in interacting with new people.

Many of our team members face challenges of isolation at home, and the positive energy you bring helps bridge that gap, making them feel seen and included.
